CSUCI Lecture Series

California State University, Channel Islands and the Thousand Oaks Library present:

Public Health Leadership in a Crisis

On Monday, November 14, 2016, with Zin Htway, Ph.D., Lecturer in Biology.

Public health leadership in a crisis theorizes the application of four leadership skills: technical skills, interpersonal skills, conceptual skills, and emotional skills. A leader of a public health crisis will have to use these four skills for coordinating, managing, and directing staff and resources. The importance of this leadership theory is for future public health crisis leaders to gain a better understanding of the role of public health leadership in a crisis.

This lecture will take place at 7pm at the Newbury Park Library. 🌱

CLU Lecture Series

California Lutheran University and the Thousand Oaks Library present:

Trying to Hold the Moon: The Fourteenth Century World

In 1978, Pulitzer Prize Winner Barbara Tuchman wrote what is often termed her "finest work" called A Distant Mirror: The Calamitous 14th Century. The book explored the life of the 14th century primarily through Western society. Approaching the 40th anniversary of her work, take a look at the 14th century by focusing on the same time period but using a more global lens, exploring Europe, the Middle East, Asia, Africa, North and South America, and the Far East.

Upcoming lecture dates are November 9, December 7, January 11, February 8, and March 15. All at 7pm at the Grant R. Brimhall Library in Thousand Oaks. 🌱

Director's Message

Just recently, I was tuned to our hometown radio station, KCLU, enjoying their pledge break. "Enjoying their pledge break?" you may ask? Yes, I was, because it served as a reminder of how supportive this community is of the organizations that make Thousand Oaks such a special place to live and work.

As the hosts spoke of the importance of pledging, they talked about the value that's added when, essentially, you become an investor in the programs you support. Listeners become more committed when they know they've personally contributed to KCLU's success. The same could be said of our support organizations, the Thousand Oaks Library Foundation and the Friends of the Thousand Oaks Library and their members.

If you've ever shopped at our gift store, rented a DVD, bought a cup of coffee or candy bar from the vending machines, then you've supported the Thousand Oaks Library Foundation and on their behalf, I thank you. Our Foundation is one of the few library foundations that actually owns a significant and rare archive which your donations help sustain. Our Special Collections division, at the Brimhall Library, is a vast treasure trove of local history from the earliest days (pre-incorporation) to our most current events. Thanks to the incomparable photographer, Ed Lawrence, you can even purchase some of those amazing images of the City from its earliest days. But local history is not all that's in the special collections.

The American Radio Archive includes the rarest items from the earliest days of radio. From scripts to recorded programs to the personal papers and memorabilia of singer and radio pioneer Rudy Vallée and award-winning writer, Norman Corwin, the Foundation has succeeded in putting the Thousand Oaks Library on the map in the world of radio and television history.

Our Friends of the Thousand Oaks Library, an organization whose history can also be traced back to the earliest days of the Library, take in hundreds of used books, CDs, DVDs and other materials monthly. Through their ongoing and special book sale events and the dedication of their volunteers, they raise thousands of dollars annually for the Library, enhancing our print and digital resources and making such things as our Summer Reading Club, One City One Book and other unique programming opportunities possible.

And I would be remiss if I didn't give thanks to both organizations for their ongoing support of our beautiful aquarium. Not only is that a unique feature of our Library, but it contributes greatly to sparking and capturing the imagination of our visitors of all ages.

As we pause to give thanks for the incredible bounty we have been given, please consider giving back to these two organizations that have done so much to make your Thousand Oaks Library the unique destination you know and love.

Thousand Oaks Reads: One City, One Book

An Afternoon with Ben Montgomery Author of Grandma Gatewood's Walk

Sunday, November 6, 2016
3:00 - 4:30 PM

Thousand Oaks Civic Arts Plaza
Fred Kavli Theatre

Author Ben Montgomery will discuss his book, his career, and answer questions from the audience at this Thousand Oaks Reads finale event. Grandma Gatewood's Walk: The Inspiring Story of the Woman Who Saved the Appalachian Trail tells the story of Emma Gatewood, who at the age of 67, tackled the 2,050-mile Appalachian Trail in 1955, and became the first woman to hike the entire trail alone.

Mr. Montgomery will be introduced by Dr. Chris Kimball, the President of California Lutheran University.

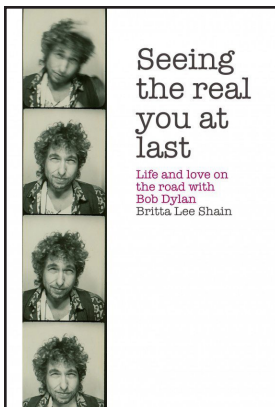

FREE tickets are required for this event. Tickets are available at the Grant R. Brimhall Library and the Newbury Park Branch Library, or at the theater on the day of the event.

For more information, call 805-381-7358, or visit www.toaks.org/library. 📞

Seeing The Real You At Last: Life And Love On The Road With Bob Dylan

Britta Lee Shain

Thursday, December 8, 2016 • 7:00pm
Grant R. Brimhall Library

Britta Lee Shain was a friend of Bob Dylan's until he asked her to join him on the road in the mid 1980s, at which point she became more than a friend. In this intimate and elliptical memoir of their time together, at home in Los Angeles and on tour with Tom Petty and the Grateful Dead, she offers a unique portrait of the romantic, earthbound, and poetic soul trapped in the role of being Bob Dylan.

Copies of her book will be available for purchase after her presentation. For more information, please call 805-381-7358. 📞
